

We have little something to improve your daily life – smartwatch which will keep you updated with your schedule (calls, meetings, other notifications) as well as will serve you good when you exercise thanks to high accuracy heart rate. To start with, ACME SW201 Smartwatch will inform you about all notifications you usually get to your phone, like incoming calls, emails or social networks notifications. Besides, you can set your own reminders in the watch to never again miss your favourite show on TV or simply drink more water during the day. Furthermore, this smartwatch has high accuracy heart rate monitor which makes every heart beat count to provide you with precise results of your training. To get even more accurate results, you can choose between different sports you are taking and see results of that concrete exercise thanks to multi-sport mode. All this information may be viewed on your phone in the special app or simply on the smartwatch screen. Worthy to mention the screen is colourful and touch-sensitive for easy navigation and control.
